THE GOLD DEBT OF CHICAGO.

Under the decision of the Supreme Court, declaring the validity of greenbacks as a legal tender for debts contracted prior to February, 1862, all debts, State, municipal, and private, bearing date before that time, and the interest thereon, and falling due hereafter, will have to be paid in gold.

From the reports of the Comptroller of the city of Chicago, made April 1, 1867, and April 1, 1869, we find that, of the debt existing in 1867, there is yet unpaid the following items:

FLOATING DEBT (BEARING NO INTEREST).
Warrants issued, but not paid	$80.00
Unpaid water purchases	3,000.00
Old certificates of indebtedness	46.00
Balance of Sinking Fund	417.00
Total floating debt	24,463.00
FUNDED DEBT (BEARING INTEREST).
7 per cent bonds due Jan. 1, 1875	$ 75,000
7 per cent bonds due July, 1875	50,000
7 per cent bonds due Jan., 1876	40,000
7 per cent bonds due July, 1876	100,000
7 per cent bonds due Jan., 1877	50,000
WATER LOANS.
7 per cent bonds due April, 1885	$11,000
7 per cent bonds	20,000
Total funded debt	$396,000
PROSPECTIVE WATER WORKS.
Water, 6 per cent bonds	$ 97,000
Water, 7 per cent bonds	434,000
Income, 7 per cent bonds	400,000
Total prospective debt	931,000
Total gross debt	$1,351,463.00
Water bonds, 6 per cent	$1,000,000
Water loan, 7 per cent	112,000
Total water debt	$1,112,000
EXHIBIT OF SINKING FUND.
Present debt	$ 284,000
Sinking fund	199,000
Water debt	1,112,000
Total present debt	$1,307,000
Sinking fund (no interest)	417.00
Water	199,000.00
Total	$1,307,417.00

It will be seen that the city owes nearly $1,600,000 debt contracted before the Legal-Tender act was passed, and which will have to be paid, at maturity, in gold. The small charge for interest on this debt amounts to $110,000, which hereafter, have to be paid in gold. The other $1,400,000 of city debt has been contracted since the date of the Legal-Tender act, and escapes the gold obligation. Those who have received this depreciated issue since 1862, in currency, having made no formal protest, have no cause of action for the difference between the value of that currency and coin.

THE CITY WATER SUPPLY.

A committee of the Common Council, the Board of Public Works, and Mr. Chesbrough, the City Engineer, have all united, after careful investigation, in recommending an addition to the means of water supply. It is gratifying to know that the water works are self-sustaining. The water debt on the 1st of April, 1869, stood thus:

Bonds bearing 6 per cent	$1,000,000
Bonds bearing 7 per cent	1,000,000
Three months, 7 per cent	80,000
Total water debt	$2,080,000

The annual interest upon this sum is $201,100. The income from water rents for the year ending April 1, 1869, was $439,637, or an annual surplus of $219,000, which will annually increase. It is now proposed to expend $1,000,000 more, increasing the annual charge for interest to $260,360, which will leave a surplus of $114,000 annually, not including the increase in the aggregate of rents.

The new pumping-works in the West Division, by supplying the mains in the south half of the city, will relieve the exhaustive demand upon the present distributing pipes, and leave the north half of the city to be supplied by the present works. It is estimated that the whole work can be completed and in operation in two years. When completed the two sets of pumps are at work the supply will be equal to from 50,000,000 to 70,000,000 of gallons daily.

ROCHEPORT.

Proceedings Before the Utensils Tribunal—Charges and Counter-Charges.

From Galignani's Messenger, Jan. 24.

The action of the Utensils Tribunal, which sits at the Corn-Exchange, Rochefort, in the department of the Lower Charente, in which Mr. Jules Simon, Minister of Public Instruction, is plaintiff, and Mr. Henri Rochefort, defendant, was resumed yesterday morning at 10 o'clock.

Mr. Rochefort, who was also made plaintiff in a counter-action, and Mr. Grousset, writer on the staff of the Marseillaise, on the one hand, and Mr. Jules Simon and Mr. Duvergier de Hauranne, on the other, were present.

The Utensils Court is a tribunal composed of seven members, and is presided over by a Councillor of the Imperial Court of Poitiers. Although an advertisement had been made that the proceedings would be public, a large number of persons crowded collectively in the body of the hall, and in the corridors adjoining the entrance to the Court. Many ladies were present, and were accommodated with seats on the platform. The Court, which was opened at 10 o'clock, was composed of the following gentlemen: M. Allou, Councillor of the Imperial Court of Poitiers, President; M. Gaudin de Villaine, Councillor of the Imperial Court of Poitiers; M. Allou, Advocate-General at the Imperial Court of Poitiers, Public Prosecutor; M. Gaudin, Advocate, Registrar; M. Antoine, Advocate, and M. Lacroix, Advocate, Deputy Registrars.

The President, addressing himself to Mr. Rochefort, said: Are you the author of the article published in the Marseillaise, in which you accused the Minister of Public Instruction of having, in the Chamber of Deputies, given the lie to the Minister of War?

Mr. Rochefort—I have in my desk at my house in Lawrence, Kansas, a document of precisely the same character as that which I am now about to produce, and which I have had in my possession for the last two years. I have been waiting for the moment when I could produce it, and I am glad that the moment has arrived. I am sorry that I have not got it here, but I will send for it. I am sure that it will be found

THE VIGILANTS.

A Midnight Adventure with a "Committee" in the West Division.

A Merchant Chased Home

It was thought by many that the failure of the attempt to find a corpse in the ruins of the Tremont House would, if not altogether, at least in a great measure, prevent excursionists from visiting the city for the purpose of seeing the sights. It has not, however, had that effect, and Chicago is now, as it has been for two months past, the Mecca of thousands of pilgrims, who flock hither from all parts of the country to see the ruins. Many of these people are sharpers who do not know a single person or purpose, and, if they could find them, would not be known by them. They are there simply for the purpose of seeing what they can see, and of telling what they have seen when they get home. Some of these people have been so out of sorts as to cut small pieces off the ruins to carry home with them. This was all very well while it was confined to the rough edges of the ruins, but when it began to be applied to the smooth surfaces of the walls, it was time to put a stop to it. Accordingly, a few days ago, a notice was posted on the ruins to the effect that any person found cutting off pieces of the walls would be arrested and fined. This notice has had the effect of preventing any further depredations of this character.

Another class of visitors who have been attracted to the city by the ruins are those who have come to see what they could find in the way of plunder. Of course, the number of these people is small, but they have been numerous enough to keep the police busy. Their operations have been confined principally to the West Division, where they have found a number of houses which were left unoccupied by the fire, and which, in the absence of their owners, they have entered and looted. Some of these houses have been entered by the police, and the goods found in them restored to the owners. Others have been entered by the police, but the goods found in them have not been restored to the owners, because the owners have not been able to identify them. Others, again, have been entered by the police, but the goods found in them have not been restored to the owners, because the police have not been able to find the owners
